

RESPONSIBLE SECURITY TRAINING HUB

Strengthen human rights performance

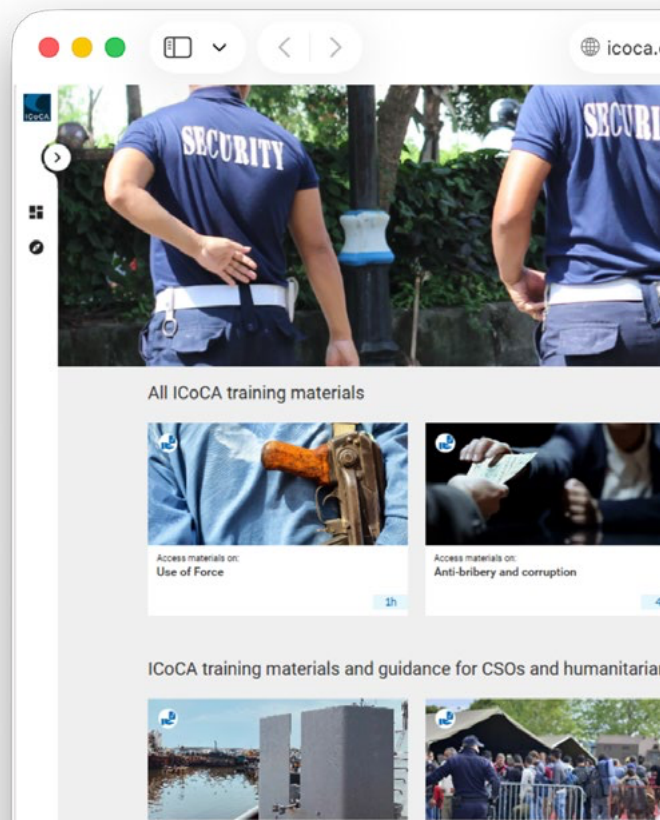

Developed with input from expert practitioners, ICoCA's online training hub provides practical, short courses in multiple languages on a wide range of security and human rights related topics to bring your employees up to speed on responsible business practice.

Reach out today to learn more: secretariat@icoca.ch

Build a safer, more responsible security workforce

Organisations face increasing expectations from investors, regulators, clients and communities to demonstrate responsible security practices. ICoCA's online training hub helps companies strengthen human rights compliance, reduce operational risk and improve oversight of private security personnel worldwide.

Developed by the Responsible Security Association (ICoCA), our online training provides practical, accessible learning for security personnel, managers, contractors and corporate teams responsible for security, operations, HSE and more.

Why choose ICoCA training?

Reduce risk

Equip security personnel and those who interact with security with the knowledge and skills needed to prevent human rights violations, misconduct, corruption and other operational risks.

Demonstrate due diligence compliance

Support ESG commitments, human rights policies, supplier oversight requirements and responsible security management programmes.

Track performance and simplify reporting

Monitor participation, completion, assessment results and certification status. Track the percentage of security personnel trained on relevant human rights policies and procedures to support ESG, sustainability and reporting disclosures.

Global accessibility

Deliver consistent training across multiple countries, locations and time zones through a flexible online platform.

Trusted expertise

Join more than 100 companies and organisations in over 60 countries that have benefited from ICoCA's training programmes since 2020.

Platform features

- ✓ Self-paced online learning available 24/7
- ✓ Company-wide training management and reporting
- ✓ Individual certificates issued upon successful completion
- ✓ Courses ranging from 20 minutes to 3 hours
- ✓ Most courses completed in less than one hour
- ✓ Available in multiple languages, including:
 - English
 - French
 - Spanish
 - Portuguese
 - Arabic
 - Somali
 - Swahili
 - Additional languages available upon request.

Course catalogue

Core security & human rights training

- The International Code of Conduct for security personnel
- The International Code of Conduct for managers
- Use of force
- Human rights impact assessments
- Grievance mechanisms

Responsible business conduct

- Working conditions
- Bribery and corruption
- Sexual exploitation and abuse
- Hiring private security personnel
- Private security and new technologies

Client and operational contexts

- Using private security in corporate operations
- Using private security in humanitarian operations

Designed for

- Corporate security departments
- Extractives and energy companies
- Infrastructure and construction projects
- Humanitarian organisations
- Private security providers
- Government contractors
- Supply chain and ESG teams

Simple deployment

Organisations purchase training licenses based on the number of users required.

Company administrators receive access to:

- User management tools
- Completion tracking
- Assessment results
- Certification records
- Progress reporting
- Aggregated overview for easy reporting

Employees can complete training anytime, anywhere with a reliable internet connection. Offline training materials can be provided where reliable internet is not available.

If you already have your own Learning Management System, ICoCA courses can be uploaded to your platform, seamlessly integrating with your existing training procedures.

Strengthen compliance. Reduce risk. Build trust.

Partner with ICoCA to develop a workforce that understands and applies international human rights standards in daily operations.

Request a demonstration or pricing information

The Responsible
Security
Association

Advancing responsible private security through accountability, human rights and international best practice.

Email: secretariat@icoca.ch Website: www.icoca.ch

Explore our services

